

Civil, Commercial, Tax and Family Mediation

Announcing ASM's new Suffolk office and meeting facilities

Effective as of now, in addition to its London-base, Albert Square Mediation Limited has an office in Suffolk. The address of this office which is run by one of its team members, David King, is 4 Stone Street Court, Stone Street, Hadleigh, IP7 6HY and mediation facilities in Ipswich.

David will be very happy to speak to prospective clients, facilitate roundtable meetings and conduct mediations online. This office may be booked by family mediators at mutually convenient times including weekends.

David, who also practices accountancy as Guymmer King is a civil mediator with a particular interest in commercial, finance, tax and also faith issues. He mediates all types of civil dispute.

David will work in tandem with Anthony Wooding who is also the Managing Partner of Kerseys Solicitors in Ipswich. Anthony's particular interest in Landlord and Tenant, Housing and Property law stands him in very good stead. He mediates all types of civil dispute and like David he does so online.

Additionally, with Anthony we now have the use of high quality, very centrally located mediation rooms in Ipswich. The town has very good public transport connections and this facility will also be used by Paul Sandford and other ASM team members.

In keeping with the ASM ethos, David and Anthony are very firmly of the view that no case is too big, too small or too complicated and are both committed to providing excellent value for money. Both are excellent mediators. They adopt a quiet, intelligent approach and quickly gain parties trust, helping them to explore the options and reach settlements that they are comfortable with. David and Anthony's knowledge and experience makes them 'go to' mediators and as with the rest of the ASM team they can take on cases at short notice.

ANTHONY WOODING

"The mediators without any doubt added very significant value and helped us avoid what would have been potentially very significant legal costs. Without their help I doubt we could have got a sensible conversation between us and the defendant."

"Anthony is an effective mediator. Through his quiet and intelligent approach Anthony is quickly able to gain the parties' trust and to guide them onto the settlement path. Combined with his knowledge and experience in a range of subject areas, making him a mediator of choice for a variety of disputes."
